

At Orpheus we are committed to the success of every student. We recognize that our unique approach of teaching the total musician requires significant commitment from the teachers, parents and students alike and is, therefore, not the right fit for every individual or family.

Please fill out the questionnaire below so that we can evaluate if our academy will be a good fit for your family. Please feel free to continue your answers on the back of the paper.

What are your goals for your child in music lessons?

Elementary-age children usually benefit from having an adult provide guidance and support as they practice. How often are you (or another parent) willing to commit to helping your child practice?

- Every day       4-6 days/wk       2-3days/wk       They will need to practice independently

In your perspective, what are the ways a parent can best support their child succeeding in music lessons?

How many performance events are you willing to commit to bringing your child to per semester?

- 4-6       2-4       1       none

In what other activities does your child usually participate during the fall and spring?

What period of time do you think is reasonable to commit to trying an instrument before evaluating if the child is genuinely interested and making progress?

- two years       one year       one semester       one month
